

LUCKENBACH, TEXAS

Neregistrovaná komunita ve státě Texas nedaleko Fredericksburgu, kde "Každý je někdo".

Vyhlášené centrum country hudby s historickou tančírnou.

Místo, které je navštěvované pro svou lásku ke country hudbě a k pozitivnímu postoji k německo - texaským kořenům.

Komunitu založil v roce 1849 Carl Albert Luckenbach, syn osadníka Jacoba Luckenbacha z Německa.

Migrant Jacob přišel z německého Porýní a jeho jméno dokládá vodní proudy ve Württembergu a Porýní.

Usedlost patří v současnosti rodině Hondo.

Vzpomínku mé návštěvy v této usedlosti, kde jsem byl s rodinou v roce 2002 přivítán jako Velehost starostkou, redaktorkou místních novin Luckenbach MOON, majitelkou koloniálu, správkyň tanečního sálu a poštovní úřednicí Maggie Montgomery a pohoštěn americkou kávou.

Dokládám ukázkou místních novin. Ty obsahují i vzpomínku Willie Nelsona, který si v Luckenbachu několikrát zahrál a zaspíval.

V pravém horním rohu první stránky je fotografie místního poštovního úřadu, který perfektně funguje.

Vzpomínka od Willie Nelsona

Copied from Becky's book, Hondo My Father...

WILLIE NELSON REMEMBERS HONDO

*Luckenbach Monthly Moon
January 21, 1978*

Hondo Crouch wasn't just a funny, friendly guy. He was a poet and a good one. His poetry came hard like all good poems do—like the crops in the Hill Country that somehow grow in spite of the cold, the hot sun and the rocks.

Hondo carried a little notebook with him and he'd finally find that stubby pencil back in a pocket somewhere. Then he'd write down his poems and whittle at the words with the same skill and insistence on perfection that marked his wood carvings.

Like everybody else, I loved Hondo and remember him under the trees reciting "Luckenbach Moon". I wish everyone could have heard him do that before he died. We still have him doing it on the great record, but the record can't give us back the twinkle and the grin—the being that shined like a Hill Country stream on a sunny Spring Day.

You should have seen Hondo when he did "Luckenbach Moon."

I was lucky.

I did.

—Willie Nelson

Hi Maggie-

I just wanted to tell you thanks- Rene and I had a wonderful time Friday night. This was my first time visiting Luckenbach, much less performing there and I was really touched by everyone's generosity and kindness- We don't find that very often in the big city venues up here in Dallas- and my guys here at home know that rolling pin is not anything to mess with! (smile)

take care-

annie benjamin

Hey to all of you in Luckenbach.

Well I'm glad to see it was all Maggie's fault and not ours. We came for a visit and all we saw was lot's of rain!!! We tried our best to get to Luckenbach. We spent our 25th anniversary with you all last year and just fell in love with your little town. Well we just came at a real bad time this year. We tried to get down your road a few times, but it was closed, and being we were driving and didn't have a boat we thought we should just stay away. We would have loved to be a part of helping with the clean up though. We heard Roger Moon play in Luckenbach last year and had seen on the website that he had a cd out. Now our friends and family thought we were a little weird when we told them we were driving 11 hundred miles so we could get this cd and have it autographed right there in Luckenbach, but hey we think Roger is pretty darn good!!! Anyway that did not happen, but thanks to KFAN radio station we did find this cd in Fredericksburg. So we have the cd, but not the autograph. We will get it next year on our trip to see you. The cd is wonderful, by the way. Thanks for telling us about it on your web page. I'm so glad to see that you all are doing fine after the storm. We were quite concerned. We will be back. Next time I think I will check on weather.com first though. Tell everyone us Yankees are thinking of them here in Illinois. Keep the beer cold and the good music coming. Take care.
